

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Bismillahirrahmanirrahim. By the grace of Allah SWT, the Lord of all creatures, the writer finally finished writing this undergraduate thesis entitled “Codeswitching from Indonesian to English Encountered in the Three Naila Farhana’s Youtube Videos” with all the blessings He bestowed upon her.

The writer would like to express her deepest dedication to her principal supervisor, Drs. Sudarsono M.A., Ph. D, for his precious time, invaluable guidance, and expertise who gave the writer novel knowledge on codeswitching. Moreover, knowing that the writer’s first supervisor also researched codeswitching phenomenon for his master’s degree graduate thesis encouraged her to study this research better. The writer is also deeply indebted to her academic supervisor and co-supervisor, Drs. Luwandi Suhartono, M. Hum, for his priceless time, cordial response, and thoroughness who gave the writer insights throughout academic consultation and corrected detailed and crucial things in this thesis writing. Thus, it was a huge privilege and honor to be supervised by two knowledgeable linguists.

The writer would like to extend her sincere gratitude to her first examiner, Dr. Endang Susilawati, M. Si, and her second examiner, Dr. Ikhsanudin, M. Hum for their time, suggestions, ideas, and positive feedback. Without their persistent help, this study would not have been accomplished properly.

Furthermore, the writer’s high appreciation also goes to:

- a. Dr. Ahmad Yani T., M.Pd., the Dean of Teacher Training and Education Faculty, Universitas Tanjungpura.

- b. Dr. Patriantoro, M. Hum, the Head of Languages and Arts Education Department.
- c. Yanti Sri Rezeki, M.Ed., Ph. D, the Chairperson of English Language Education Study Program.
- d. All of the English Education lecturers for their countless knowledge and lessons during her study in English Language Education Study Program, Languages of Arts Education Department, Teacher Training and Education Faculty, Universitas Tanjungpura.
- e. All of the staff of Teacher Training and Education Faculty, Universitas Tanjungpura.
- f. Naila Farhana, the subject of this research, for the inspiration to do a research on codeswitching and useful contents in English language learning.

However, this endeavor would have not been possible without her nuclear family, especially her parents for their continuous dua's, endless love, plentiful encouragement, and uncountable sacrifices that they have made until the writer reached this stage. The writer could have not also undertaken this journey without her wise grandmother and generous relatives for giving any kind of support during the writer's life.

In particular, the writer's endless gratitude goes to her foremost pals in college, Sari Setiawati, Shania Cournicova, Meilia Kurnia, Bela Mustika Wati, and Efendi, for supporting and helping each other throughout this undergraduate journey. In addition, the writer is also grateful to her linguistics team, Ummi Yuliani and Rini Nuraini for sharing final research thoughts as novice linguistics-focused researchers.

Additionally, continuous thanks always go to her support system, Arum Setyaningsih, Uray Jihan, Titin Monika, Esi Amelyanti, Nur Fila, Tri Sulastri, Agustina, Parida, Fatin Syakira, Esi Oktaviani, Nurma Khairunnisa, Purnamawati, Nuriyanti, Nurul Annisa, Wasiah, Tandri Aisyah, Wana Ega, Zehrotus Sholihah, Windy, Diad, Dhevia, Ega, Sesba, Baiti, Egy, Lisa, Isa, Aisyah, Hapsah, Resi, Miftah, Kyhacademy team and tutees, Ramadhan pilgrims, and especially all of her B2-RegB classmates who cannot be mentioned one by one.

Last but not least, the ultimate appreciation goes to Universitas Tanjungpura. It is not without the generosity of Universitas Tanjungpura as a place to pursue her academic improvement.

Eventually, the writer realizes that this undergraduate thesis might have limits. Therefore, the writer highly appreciates positive criticism and constructive feedback for further improvement. The writer hopes that this thesis will give benefit for English language research and future studies about codeswitching.
