In conducting interpretational activities, Disdukcapil cooperates with several agencies. The agencies involved, of course, depend on the scope of the problems that occur so that what is conveyed to the community is right on target, especially for the matter of decisions to be taken. 3) Application. The applicational stage is the stage of implementing the process plan of the policy implementation into existence. Application activities in the provision of services on a regular basis, payments or others are in line with the goals and objectives of the existing policies. Policies that have been made can be conducted properly with a fairly high public enthusiasm for the socialization provided by Disdukcapil. Although the results have not been optimal because there are still people who do not know how important a Death Certificate is.
